Self-making

Dedication

To every partner with me on this earth

breathing with me its air, and drinking its water

And living with me

Ali Alqaseer

Introduction

A diverse world among its civilizations, cultures and factors of development in every spot they all share the type of factor which is human.

each one has different abilities in terms of perception, discrimination, thinking and planning renaissance and collapse factors arise in each individual based on understanding and self-confidence

choosing the example and the path to success or surrender to misery and for every will there is determination and energy creating a balancing system between turbulence and self-

confidence

and thinking is the first step towards the change

it is the best way to self-repair and rebuild

These words in the lines of my pages are not for a group of ages without another

It is not for males only

It is a message of love for a happy life

everyone lives through change towards planning and success

In every spot of the earth they were Hoping for peace and love among all humanity should be an emblem and a method for every human being and to achieve success for everyone to set an example for others who are you?

Stand in front of the mirror and see,
who are you?

and sit down to review your experiences, strengths and weaknesses points and draw the anxiety that you feel to treat it through your self-confidence when all the factors come together whatever their colors you must be optimistic because you started thinking the first result of thinking will be planning

and patience,

And while you are going according to a new system to build yourself among your likeness to be successful and distinctive

How do I start making self?

The beginning is to know yourself and its conditions

because knowing something removes the ignorance about it and when you start to recognize the depths of yourself and find out its secrets and seeing the strongest qualities the first step in making yourself will be your presence

what is the meaning of the word making yourself?

can I make myself or someone else will do it?

and what is the concept of self that we must understand

so that the steps of self-making to be successful?

the self-making is to achieve its existence through thinking, planning, change and success

and work in your presence to leave an impact

like the impact of your feet on the ground, when you walk but the impacts of your presence can be left by your work and will be reflected through your doings

with those around you in your words and actions and you can choose the best images you print in the minds of others when you accompany them or when your name take effect with their ideas or during their talks and through several factors you can achieve a qualitative personality

and unique and attractive

it makes its strength friendly, peaceful and conscious it will succeed after striving in its moral and cognitive construction in any case you have made yourself and you are exist but your effects do not exist and make yourself when you sow the will

it unites with determination and begins to change and you make your presence by yourself and by success while achieving the goal and be the maker of others by thought

when they take you an example and your success in making others and your approach is followed by everyone who looked like you before you wake up from the illusion of surrender and despair and you will be yourself knowledge is the origin of success in building your personality

Ignorance of it is evidence of ignorance of everything and the best decision is to strive for reforming it

after knowing what it is Foundations and ingredients

Foundations

the path structure in mind maps for existential construction achieving energy efficiency that generates willpower

the planning and construction were based on ten foundations the first seed was shining about sharpening the mettle towards thinking

so that to grow after planting the title of will and self-confidence will water him the best ways, for change the door of science has stairs whose first degree is the goal coupled with positive example of an experimental nature its harvests are science and proof the character armor of the open way of Behavior is the noble manners with patience that generates the power of mind

Number one

Thinking

when the idea is born, it is like a lamp from which light shines in the dark but when do I start thinking? how?

where? why? And what?

when do you start thinking?

it is when you stand or sit and you start asking yourself who am I?

and where to go?

and how you think?

this will be compared to your past you are in the present and want to get the best in the future and where to start thinking there is no doubt that time and space is made for you all the time to be a tourist in your mind about your existence

for a meaningful life as for the question of why I think?

and what?

it means reaching the beginning after inattention days to begin the change

the answer was:

I will think of everything in myself and for myself, and those around it because I'm a human being and aspects of thinking are chosen through choices made by each individual

based on its surroundings and cognitive tools

because passions and abilities vary between one and the other as well as places and possibilities, climatic conditions, and scientific elements

and other factors that play a role in the success of the pace once you start thinking, you have moved from the dark side of a miserable life towards the gardens of light and hope and thinking rightly will purify the mind from the remnants of ideas that did not work

like a mirror, it reflects images of purity and clarity

you will be a maker of elegant opinion

you will be the one who achieve victory over oneself by directing yourself towards the land of happiness

it is after determining the most important pace without overlapping choices while multiplying them and persevere in reaching the first task to succeed in achieving the element of thinking

as a chemical reaction within the component of the soul to make the transition from it easy towards the second degree, in the ladder of self-making

Number two

The Will

the will: from the qualities of the action

it will be only if you decide to work the action will be your intention and you are the actor the future is your decision

Namely: manifestations of love, for yourself or everyone the will: from the actions of the heart

Namely: conscience, followed by an act

even if there are only two, they will be different in their intention and the
will

when we plan, we will resolve the
will

because it`s required by itself the action will be required only by

the will

we think, then we decide what we want that was before the action that we thought it was beneficial thus, we have knowledge and the

will

to create the will through which we have appreciated what is the best we have judged by judiciary in establishing its implementation and for him, the direction will be towards the goal

and with patience, and continue of the enthusiasm and perseverance, and self-

and censorship with longing to achieve security on the coast of success

all emissions, combined to collect the estimated action within its limits it is all revolving in one pole its astronomy is the will and the resolve is the pole of its orbit and you have to be one of the people whom caring about the will because you are with the senses, its heart is the manager without the mind, who is the ruler of it, you cannot choose where to accept yourself

only when it is selected by consciousness, after the resolve of

so the actions must be arising from the willpower consent to the mind and life of the wise, and their approach

it is enabled and do not be lost between fate and will if the ways stumbled without reaching the wishes and be straightforward methods perhaps you find within your path a lot of means to your issues but you do not see the vision, but to be accompanied in the course of time the necessary will is comparison for real action

otherwise they are only mirage achieving it is an evidence of the ability in yourself, and that your determination is good when there are factors to achieve will, success will be because the beginning was within a system planning protects from pitfalls within its stages

perhaps change is subjective, through self-building or consultation with the others to reduce time and take notice of the fallen of those whom preceded us because experiments aware of the outcome of it be what you want to be because it is your soul, yourself and your life and do not be a bridge for others because age is not repeated and the birth of the will and changing the habit of self-awareness, and self-making with the above emphasis on patience, perseverance and self-confidence you have to analyze the factors that have negative effects and get rid of them before the whole will is determined for your creativity or to be treated; to be active and positive

then count what works as an accompanying catalyst, until the goal is achieved

to be inherent to you

Number three

Self-confidence

Your true self-worth is in your abilities and the treatment of fracture is done by exploring the weaknesses in your personality so that you fix the defects then you will be visionary, you're going towards the top stand in front of the mirror and tell yourself: Who are you?

and fill the mirror page with selfcriticism?

ponder what you are today?

what are you planning to be tomorrow?

what are the favorable qualifications?

and what are the obstacles?

let others experience illuminating curriculum for your fault without repeating their mistakes make yourself busy by fixing your faults and that will be enough to be victorious and a winner and you see the end of the path that you have chosen for your ambition to succeed

and let your emotions keep compliant with the mind, do not deviate from it and return to it every time you go far to stay upright with ideas and for the colors of your choices to be wise and if you consulted someone, it means that you shared him in his mind

knock more doors of minds to enhance your self-confidence through tightness of the decision on what you are doing towards it because you are in the procession of eternity

and you are today in your image and tomorrow you will get out of it the panel remains having your impact

you should be as you want to be in the eyes of the hearts don't be as someone else wants you to be because you are free, chosen, insightful, aware, sane and the owner of your decision in yourself

be valuable when you trust yourself you will be the pearl that producing contentment and satisfaction and between fear and anxiety modesty and weakness and vanity and despair self-reproach, and the corresponding security and psychological stability reassurance and firmness strength and balance and hope, tranquility, feelings, and hidden satisfaction this person will have, within the personality that oscillates between its acceptance and the will to correct it, manifestation and substance mental and realistic images will vary, from other social and behavioral images with multiple lines of statement, and its difference in measuring the confidence and success rate within the concept of the beholder and his culture whether the beholder see him from the terms of belief, and that acts have

or through the look: (I) and (they)!!

how do I see myself?

and how do people see me?

or to be the result of the active forces, that someone get, and to be for him, a face and presence as you gain self-confidence, your will, will become more solid until achieving the goal for which you began the change and for that you will have plans that shine with perfection and beauty because it has founded on the pillars of resistance of complainant soul because your shadow will be active conclusion:

act to manage yourself its pole is your self-confidence and you give all your effort for yourself to be submissive to you, and obedient to you if you cannot, you have no trust from others, or obedience from someone else

if you strengthened against it, you will be with it, and stood for it and become straightforward your peers will enjoy the fruits of your action

after you have achieved your goal by the will, determination and self-
confidence

Number four

Planning

Namely: to put a system into a process chain, to reach the target it produces energy to activate real activities its design was within specific data and limited time and planning, meaning:

surrounding ideas within the boundaries through which the movement takes place and around it and the practical maps will be based on scientific, mental and logical

and it is compound of information materials and is well illustrated and supported by the pillars of the professionals and experienced and its ingredients the collecting the benefits of the experiences resumed to others

whether it is at the level of a nation, or an individual planning study includes multiple aspects

being associated with the time and place, climate and possibilities, and catalysts

with the implementation mechanism and supplies and solutions to obstacles in the path towards the goal

general planning, contains strategic foundations

each phase has its own plans determine the distances for each stage, the beginnings and the ends the choice of desired goals or the acceptable goals from the same or he can go to the end because time doesn't repeat, and doesn't go back and the time that will end, he spent it from the days he would live and you can't add to them by choosing more determining the positives and morale and negatives and props and self-ingredients time and place

coupled with the real situation, and look to the future

within the development of events associated with the passing of the time towards the goal to make a useful adjustment in a timely manner

anyone who develops a system is required to study and research around it and analysis, induction, and reasoning everything related to the goal, and the means to it and counting all obstacles within the planning horizons

there is a priority for every plan with expecting failure to occur in some aspects, to remedy solutions with the focus on the component system in the target cycle it is needed, for building the right thought and the powerful methods, and straight ways, that the organizer have to consult the others especially if he is experienced in the properties of the target to which it is intended in order to reduce time and workmanship with the phases of work, monitoring and self-monitoring is almost daily, for each step with the approach evaluation if it is required at some point in order for the positive results to continue to emerge without interruption

facing obstacles which are difficult to find its solutions because of negligence and dependency

Number five

Change

thinking, will, self-confidence and
planning

out of all of them, the fruit of self-change in the individual will be born the beginnings of change began with the first step you started, and determined to think and from it, all the auxiliaries of ideas will be changed within each invented in the process of maturation and transformation is designed to be activated for your day to be connected to a better tomorrow

the idea of change will go with you, as long as you started walking in new steps for a new day differs from the previous one in everything

because there are new and great ambitions

it was planned to it very carefully you will feel that you need to change it a part of requirements of progress

and success

and if you stay standing where you are you will not change nor will your circumstance that you think is necessary to replace it change, by that which you think it is better hence, you will have a real view of the change and put in it all your power, to be expanded draw all aspects of your future study, and your real steps you have drawn for the coming days to be manifested by realism while accessing to it and achieving it and win it while reaching the goal and put that day your fingerprint on your impacts to say a word, it is: life the days must not be equal it senses the positives, with all the obstacles between its brochures with perseverance, diligence and follow-up, patience and consultation, you will find life with a new taste begin to change in management of time and self, behavior and approach and rectification everything around you, that associated to your procession and achieve self-success in multiple aspects

Number six

Target

the birth of ideas was your first step, and then it grew, to be a will its decoration was your self confidence

when you started planning you started the first steps towards change to make yourself as you like you will shape your personality on the basis of success in different fields, scientific, practical and social but after these stages you should have a plan for decision-making, then you achieve the goal, drawing to build it

it is a transition from one world to another

from a past that has no meaning, for a future illuminated by beauty it is a journey in the gardens of time and tourism in the truth that you make for yourself and when you make your own existence it will be benefit for you and for others

your decision affects your mind and the effects of the ocean in which it moves especially soil, water and air and the associated environmental culture and getting free from the bonds of the ocean, and sailing outside the boundaries of the place makes for you, a vision

its diameter is larger than a closed circle

or a polygonal triangle and you know that there is no such a thing as inheritance in the making of oneself

neither poverty nor ignorance are transmitted by heredity everyone has power to make a decision to change march lines in his life map

everyone has the power but not all of them choose to change and starting to activate it by setting the target, and then go towards it after the development of the mechanisms of movement, trends, and pillars and for your plan to be successful until the goal is reached you must be distinguished in action and performance and choose what you've written

and don't force it to hate it is a lesson to you from the mistakes of others

not to repeat unsuccessful steps a think a lot at every step with the logical economy in the implementation supplies and contentment of the harvest you selected, and planned to reach it beware yourself

don't lose control and if your enemy rebelled against you it may kill you with excessive determination of what is larger than your size and don't dream of anyone obeying you if you're a failure you make yourself obedient to you if you succeeded in that it will be possible to reach the target, and it is easy to reach among the most important conditions of success:

improve motivation of goals towards a goal in which progress is made it does not reach the wishes anyone but those who worked hard of self-discipline he needed perseverance, and was not deceived

he was patient to reach the summit, namely: success

Number seven

The Role Model

there should be a role model, but why?

and if not found?

and what are the qualities of the role model?

and where is it?

and does it require its presence?

and what things need a role model?

and till when?

the role model is needed for self-development and raising its value through the values, that affect, from the qualities of a role models and picking out the best you inherent it in the journey of a lifetime

there is no doubt that there is an example being imitated in every aspect of life the best qualities wouldn't bear the traits of humanity and beauty it is everywhere and anytime who is worthy of dignity and respect the presence of a role model is not required

perhaps it has passed, and is alive with its effects perhaps he is with us a living being and in all matters I have to comply to senior positions in performance and appearance of attributes and qualities and to have the appearance and essence and the magnificent compete as long as I have a straightforward approach following an example my feet wouldn't fall

I continue to succeed

Conclusion

The role model is believed the follower's qualities should be like the role model's whether movements, or silence, in the form of words, or actions its effects are seen through what is left behind

or it is based in his time, day by day for being like the example about

no doubt that the best role model is that whom enjoys the good qualities if it is on the level of morality or at the level of science and both are leading towards perfection

the more generous the role model was, the more powerful follower for his hopes

through his wise footsteps and when the role model be successful, following him will lead you to success.

Number eight

Science

General science in colleges, and what is specific of the target circle that was planned for it science in the conditions and laws of society, and the environment and what's going on, especially, in your around, and in general, in the environment of others they all lead to victory, and will be sociable to you with knowledge you will not feel loneliness, or ignorance, if you have the knowledge and don't believe that knowledge has an end

it leads to victory and success with it, you can control over

and knowledge is your guide it strengthens the thought straightforward building supports anchors on it and through it the distinction of industry

they differ between the supports of physical construction, like towers, and skyscrapers

and between spiritual construction, evaluation of morality
