The torments of the soul

Dedication

To those whom have minds

To find themselves

Ali Alqaseer

Introduction

Continuing conflict

From which none finds any way to escape

Between soul and itself

Every time, anywhere

And with every thing

And on all known and unknown

And to an unspecified time

A different struggle for everyone thought is its subject its title is me

And its tools is knowledge

It is born when we are born

And grows as we grow

It has branches and fruit and it is absorbed by ones self, without the other

Because the vessels that we hold to the heart, are not all the same

As the different phases that we are, and the colors

And my heart is like the land, that requires from us plowing, planting, watering and communion so we reap from them what is good for us,

A struggle that lives by the life of our soul

And grovel when we start to grovel

He searches after cognition for consciousness

To produce understanding, and reach the truth

Conflict makes the essence, for the people of meditation and forethought and deep thinking

Darkness is spread deep within the soul if it is neglected

And between these and those I stood in an extended time between them

To see each of them, and where I should be

After passing of time, like seconds

It folded five decades of my life

In the experimental laboratory, the mind produced the starting point, from which I start life,

I composed these lines, and I was there, in between

Fore this who reads, to see me Then looks for himself

Until we meet, like twigs, when they stretch in a tree

From them, life comes

Reading

Through reading, one can catch the benefits

And with it, one enjoys the pleasure of perception

Consciously, it is building knowledge, that leads us to development, and success

After we get talents, that gather minds of others, to our minds within our travels between the lines of ideas

The change will not happen, if we don't have the key of reading

And by doing so memory expands, and the mind grows

When you read, you live a book people on the earth will read its lines because you will know, who are you, and who are they

And what should you be?

The beholder harvest the aspiring minds with insightful eyes

To enjoy the fruits of reading

It has a shield that protects it against the effects of the dark thoughts

And keeps happiness to the soul

And rest as well

And it has the skill to scrutinize opinion

And generating contentment, and change

And management for the self and society

It is worth moving to a more wonderful world after we realize the value of time

While we are reading life, from the beginning to the conclusion

Writing

Each text has a structure

Utters with the voice of the mind of its writer

It has a system

And its industry is knowledge

And writing is the nectar of reading

As a painting with feather`s beauty in the meanings of sentences

Gathers in the lines, the spoils of travel, among the minds that it read to it

To be like a peasant

Inculcates the beautiful of thought, as seeds

By which, your counterpart in creation, lives

And you remain among them alive in your words

In writing there is light, spirit and life

They are the results of ideas

We organize the truth after the investigation

Among pens, some of them invaded, to assassinate minds, deliberately or ignorantly

And the vaccine in proper writing

regulation in the order of ideas is a must

To deliver mental images

Within the templates of words stored meanings

And in the form of stages

It flows like water, in the possible, which has been perceived

And each title became boundaries

And technical rationing in writing style

Take care of the content in each image

And not to mix it with the colors of different ideas

So I start from childhood

I end the process with the active mind and its abilities

Before the beginning tale

Words structures are built of letters

They have meaning, and effect it is not true that the writer is oppressive to the reader by dictating the lines with empty words or details in the definitions of some

or merging sporadic topics with the main title to lead the reader to them then after seeing it, he realizes that he was intellectually assassinated with wasting his time but there is no one to complain to him for the lack of a court of writers, or for conscience in a planet radiating with light, its name is: Earth

Conclusion:

Everyone has many different experiences

Until he finds what he's looking for, and he gets it the acquisition of everything precious of words by which we feel life, is a must and present it as food for the minds

The first stage

The growth

The perception of the meaning of speech and understanding it with its limits helps to evaluate the soul, and activating the power of mind and for that we need to explain the meaning of growth, in the linguistic and scientific definition because some words have two meanings

Language and convention:

First: what the word indicates in the language

Second: group agreement to launch a word, as a definition of something, what called convention

Growth: Indicates the increase it indicates definitions of other things, such as change, elevation, and belonging and there are types of the grow related to self some are about self each growth has stages increased cognition is achieved according to disparities between individuals

as per what is collected at that stage for each individual

In the first stage of the suffering of the soul, I do not refer to physical or sensory growth and the subsequent movement the intent, has a pole, and an axis on which the meaning is based which is mental development as growth continues, so does the perception of things the mind became more likely to understand it and if it deviated during its growth, it swings between light and darkness that leads to astray either choose to stand where the path ended or to confuse between his affection and his knowledge and get lost in the darkness of the self, that orders him to do evil it remains for everyone, elongating the process to the goal and to the end to reach the intent the longitudinal expansion that extends from birth to its end differs from the accidental expansion related to the incidental conditions around it and each one has its effects during growth

Mental growth

It begins with the senses and movement of the child to recognize things then he communicates with the environment around him the first few months will have primary features because there is a difference between people's perception and his simple sensory perception

he will reflect emotions that are shared by everyone within this stage in sequence, such as:

lactation, and the movement of his eyes followed by smiling, screaming, and movements of the hands and legs after the first year, the curiosity of exploration of things begins then knowledge begins with learning the language little by little, he arranges his mental

and this is the first stage of the torment of the soul!!

perhaps many of us still retain many mental images of childhood there are some differences about genesis of perception and its components and environment the conflict begins silently asking stark questions

inside the child folds the world between his sides a heart that is beating to live and the weakness of early childhood particularly when you stop him for something he has loved he also works to be distinctive among his family members when there are other children the torments of the soul, will differ every year for everyone the more the child's senses matured the more his knowledge varied and his thinking became wider each human has different mechanisms from others, in the making of himself and his future care at this stage was dedicated to children to activate and stimulate the ability to think that they have to teach them the definitions of things and their names from adults to toddlers by simple words

Phase II

Perception

the perception differs of each individual and its components are varied, such as the diversity of phases and the reasons for their development as the understanding of things differs in the hearts of the people, so it differs the phases knowledge levels are degrees the walker thinks to achieve the ultimate sophistication of thought when he matures in looking at the issues he dives into but the intelligent will stand within the limits doesn't transcend, or make mistakes

it may be revealed and he may recognize that it is the truth what he thought it is not and that it is fact what he thought it is fault

Minds have eyesight

And hearts have insight

The works have copies

And understanding as much as perception

Don't measure others according to the level of your maturity

And quote what you saw straight

And when you come to the top of the maturity at the twenty fourth of age it doesn't mean that you have reached the height of perception

Because the age of forty is the pole
of perception

keep doing experiments, they are proofs of the mind

The thought continues in an elongated space

And it is will known that things are being perceived by the heart and the senses

The heart perceives by the images that made by the mind and works to believe it

As for the senses, the object of perception varies

Some things are being perceived by sight

And others by hearing, touch, tongue, or smell

As well as cold, heat, pain, sadness, joy, and many others being perceived by the media

And the torments of the soul in the stage of cognition long, great and diverse

And continue with their causes

And change depending on the factors surrounding it

Phase III

The environment

Self-construction to be closely linked with the environment

And with the genetic impact of each individual remains its components

Soil, water and air have roles in our lives

Though the natural disasters and wars, some names emerge, wrestling life circumstances to achieve its existence

Travelling has many benefits that work in the front to the diversity of knowledge

And enrich the thought

And every sane person must look for the earth where he finds life and dignity

To learn, work, evolve, progress, perform an example

A constant torment between self-seeking, keeping it and choosing consort whom deserves communicating with

Each step is intended to have direction and time

Phase IV

Time

Life and its requirements and the pursuit of science and work

With social communications, fluctuations in health conditions, and the need for sleep

All of them will not let us for a while to look for ourselves

And between these and those we must distribute the time

What guarantee a part of it for us

In order to be thinking, contemplating, meditating, looking, and discussing

Determination generates will

Time management will generate success

We need to plan to know the time we have

Then we invest it after counting daily tasks

And assiduity in our austerity to change

Consecutive torments require the achievement of various talents

To start with yourself your life

Perhaps your reasons are available, for you to be always alive

And my not

It is nice to start life after being freed from your torments

So as many think that their selves are alive

The fact that reality looks like the dead, lifeless

The fifth stage

Awareness

Consciousness makes the ability to discriminate

And it generates vision in which we see the truth

And we get it after mental growth

And leads to the choice and it makes the insight radiates like the light

Behave between ideas with caution

Like night walker, who needs more awareness and attention about what he needs if he walked in the day

Awareness is available to everyone

But at different levels

Is a syndrome with formative instinct

And its tool, is the heart

Smart refrains from inattention

They have talents that prevent him from mental confusion

And he presents caution

It senses things accurately

It is not impossible

Nor is it easy to find, activate it, and keep its mass within the precursors of time

But either it is a few or many, it works on the diversity of ideas, till it comes to certainty

Early awareness is different from others

Also, its activation from instinct and composition, is different from planting it

It has the meaning of keeping it in the soul while hearing

Or keeping it not in the soul

The vessels of conscience that last in the hearts expand through meditation, forethought and reflection

Spiritual esoteric consciousness produces morale that recognizes its antibodies

And rises in levels of emotional knowledge

To be an example of utopia

Within an individual, refrains by it from going away from his mind

It is the harvest of his life

From the land of his understanding

That he wished to plant for generations what they can be enlighten with

And there is big different, between consciousness that floating like butter on water, and hearts hardly can benefit from it

And another, as the roots of the trees, are expand and turn and branch

It is progressing in a silent, irreversible movement

With wisdom that reflects the picture of understanding of the system, towards the goal, to embody the practical and human consciousness

It is not related at all, to consciousness, and losing it, through being ill, or being drunk

The torments of the soul will speak silently

How to illuminate consciousness after experimenting

I will reveal the secret for the others to see what I had seen

Perhaps by marching towards himself, he gives life to a nation and gives pleasure those spirits been assassinated injustice

The sixth stage

Meditation

We see the sun as a small one, through the sense of sight

But it isn't

Through mental meditation, we seek to realize certainty

Time is folded through meditation

Like a vision

The tourist will go far, to collect the meanings by his mind, with the evidences, double of the distances that they go, those people whom procrastinate and postpone

Ideas will get free between sight and insight, in vocabulary and mixed, and in the visuals and others

With the activation of the talents of self through semantic meditation

In the present as dew, and for absent as range

Such as extrapolation of texts when the extension of its meanings and as knowledge differs through senses, it differs through others

And meditation is action

And the doer is the self its his tool is the mind its material is the thought its topic is the understanding its location is the heart it signifies awareness it is born of perception

And it has a picture of silence its example is forethought

Its meaning appears in the pronunciation of wisdom and wise action

It is a mental activity uses vision, forethought and concentration on details

In conjunction with the apparent sense with interior sense to realize the facts

Meditation is an intellectual sport, astronomical tourism, a spiritual talent, and a sensory power

An accidental act corresponds to the innate act

And explore for understanding, certification and acquaintance, coupled with sight

it is heart thinking

And deliberate about knowing things and conclusion

And focusing on something and absorbing it within deep and long thinking

One of the most important rules for the refinement of the soul, and its happiness

Meditate has eyesight, just as when you look to someone`s face to see his smile and meditate it, you will see his happiness with your heart

You can only see happiness through its effects, and you will see it with your heart

Sides of meditation differs, considering the different of mental perceptions

As meditation is a part of the mind jobs, about the soul and self, it is the same about other things

Such as: meditation on the characteristics of a friend

And whom is worthy to be our consort all life time, and not any one else

Nothing can be achieved, except with mental and induction evidence, and related tools

The great thing of meditation, that it is working on self stimulation, to recognize its abilities and power, and going forward the human perfection

The difference of the mood doesn't hurt it,

Being polluted through corrupt science and access in its darkness meditation generates ideas

Scientists had invented varieties of innovations that led mankind to progress and development

Meditation while wake up, and also in the dreams of some people

They are those whom, while they are dreaming, recognize that they are dreaming

They meditate thoroughly

Within a time is not like our` s

To take advantage

Especially while meeting with the late good scientist

The meditative sense is a situation within which distinguish between science and ignorance

Through mental information and evidences

It's like the bridge that transports from darkness to light

Through which the troubled self conditions will upright

With a heartfelt vision, happiness is being acquired

With extended meditation on the horizons of the soul

Accompanying to imagining, thinking, perception and knowledge

And reaching the tangible and intangible, through the tangible and intangible

Like the body and the soul

The body aware by the sense of sight self doesn't aware by sight, but by mind

Through their characteristics and emissions, such as:

Peaceful self

Admonisher self

The self that is constantly urging to bad

Therefore, the meditation of the tangible has an art

The meditation of the intangible has a system

The difference between meditation and reflection is at the root of consideration

Meditation seeks for knowledge

And forethought looking for the consequences of the security from remorse

There is no law that prevents meditation and thinking

Being able to meditate, it is a science

No one dares to deny it

And when we dive deep into things with hearty insight we discover its fact by meditate

We distinguish their appearance, from their occurrence and the mechanisms of showing them

We see every body and image as the essence or symptom

The travel in the possible depths of essences require rectifiers

To be free from the torment of the soul, that hide those around it

The intellectual power and the ability to discharge them, play a role in evaluating the self

Because seeking knowledge prevents ignorance

Happiness can be realized by making the effects whose contains life

From the gardens of longing, sadness and fear

Phase VII

Seeking self

When consciousness began, i meditated all around me

I became looking for my self

It was the very beginning, I asked myself: who am I? where am I going to?

Tourism began with silence

I think of a box called body

Spirit, mind, heart, senses, feeling, flesh, bones and veins apparent and interior

For the apparent its manifestations: eye, ear, hands and feet

Many things in the interior I can't live without, Such as: the brain, blood, lungs, liver, intestines, arteries and nerves

That body has dimensions of shadow, weight, length, width and boundaries

It is made for movement and needs to sleep and rest it depends on oxygen, water and food

My structure is similar to others

They are different in some features, such as phase, finger lines, retina, and vocal cords

On my journey to myself, meditates about making me, and when it was?
And why?!

Ideas include kinds of questions, such as: the choice of existence

Am I the one who chose to be? And when? And why?

Or someone chosen me to be?

Why is the individual being different? Even in the geographical spot in where he was born?

As well as his image and color and what is attached to it

If I didn't make myself, and no one made me, who is the maker of the fine parts in each of my cells?

What are these spiritual, psychological, and physical forces and their branches, Such as: love, hatred, courage, patience and the like?

Why can I control only some forces, not all of it?

Such as breathing under water, or flying in the air?

Or see with my eyes above the sky and underground?

Or stay alive not to die, or a young man forever?

Many questions make me more determined to know myself

The more these questions are repeated, the more the research varies

There must be a leisure time, calmness and good mood, to get right answers

After diving into the depths of substantive texts that related to each question

The approach will be as follows:

1-Verify the validity of the texts before accepting them.

2 - Search for the indicators of its validity.

3 - Display the aspects of the meanings in them.

4-Collecting mental evidences for each aspect Still there is one question, about the constant torment, it is the question of, why?

It continues at multiple horizons until it goes beyond self-reflection

And reach those around me, and those with me

Whom I see, and whom I don't

And the boundaries of the world, and the universe

And where am I?

And what am I doing?

Are there whom is similar to me, within a different planet, beyond our planet

Conclusion:

The journey to self-knowledge requires seeking the truth

Phase VIII

Seeking the truth

Between my torments and the rubble of groans, and the broken remains of hope, I began the travel to search for the truth, and recognizing the facts

And to replace doubt with certainty and to get free from confusion

And to purify my depths of legacies and traditions that grew up with me since my childhood

It required a thoughtfulness, and research

And questions with myself, and consultations with diverse minds

And I took a path that makes it difficult for the soul to bear

After a long stupor unwillingly

And between my silence and stillness I wanted to be

I was determined to arrange the ideas and taking the advantages of the travels

In every step there is a major obstacle: the loss of guiding evidence

And that whom I trust his answers, whenever I ask

Because everyone embraces thought has two faces

Absolute righteousness has no address to which to turn

As if I am turning round with the idea, and looking, to realize human beings

Who holds the fidelity, in order to ask him, about what i unaware of It's thorny and bottomless

Because of the multiplicity of types of science, and the need for specialization in its topics

Through increasing the role of science in the path of life, and according to the experiences we recognize the magnitude of our ignorance, and notice its large area every day

After filtering the thought from the impurities, self searches had been chosen as approach to reach to the fact

Because science is not confined to a person, country or book

Dozens of years pass, and I am a tourist in the effects of ages

As if I'm in a lab for elements analyzing words, and review the minds, and follow my nose between the lines

It is not easy to hold a bow and shoot arrows

Because archery is a science and an art

And like the acknowledgment of the facts of the ages and all the inherited instilled it in our minds Between travels, predestination and ills, I taken the advantage of times

Those in which the mind is clear, and good for meditation

To control the images with the accuracy of sight and the power of foresight while reflecting

And the suffering of the briefing in all categories of science, as well as the inability to know its origins and check the date of birth in many of them

Therefore it was necessary to stop in the travel stations and reading a vary group of sciences

Among many subjects it has had a profound influence on the style and secrets of texts

What makes its impact as a fascinating material for its followers and every convert to its principles, such as: theology and atheism, the science of civilizations, history, the science of nature, and beyond nature

And the like, including the coalition and difference

And the pursuit of texts to ensure their integrity, sources and roots

And documentation of the true meaning, not the erased meaning, which been erased through the process of translation to the other languages,

This makes me oblige to see more than one edition for some books

Or refer to a manuscript version of it, to prove the text before I take it as a source for my thought, or object it

And to be fair with myself in its nutrition with the useful science

Or prevent it from an intellectual epidemic, it is still spreading without being controlled, and no difference between the texts

The difference in perception and understanding has produced diverse and opposing visions

Most cultures are a negative heritage

We have to check every book and text

Who wrote it? and when? within what time? and which ruler?

What contemporary of that time of intellectual hurricanes?

who is the writer and his tendencies and belief and belonging?

Then we stand within an abstract vision among the flood of words, to ladle the truth

Without leaning to anyone, or being influenced by anyone

Or rule without an evidence inferred by the correct text being proved, by reason, or both

I have found many blisters in the lines, permeated the texts, to write glory to the oppressor with the blood of the oppressed

A lot of characters assassinated the rights and the truth, and was inherited by the successors with the diversity of the levels of maturity and perceptions

And with the imbalance of living creatures and different understandings, contributed in the industry of causes of behavior to the path of injustice and darkness to achieve the goal of that whom asking, of the juice of other`s pain, he is presenting offerings of repentance and remorse

To ensure the pride of the construction on the bodies of the oppressed and their blood, as a legacy to his sons and tails

As if the watcher is oblivious, the witness is blind, and the accountant doesn't know the account

The truth for me is watering trough from the impacts of the people of truth

And after the evidence being shown

We should know who delivered everything to us? And how do we believe everything?

And the darkness cleared behind varied reading

The flavor of the text distinguished in the science system and casting its sentences between the team of faith and atheism

And the distinction of doubt as a tool that activates thinking and research, to achieve certainty

If we look for one answer for only one question of each one them, we would find difference hardly differs from this we see between light and darkness

I read about the heritage of the People of Faith texts from the Torah, the Bible and Qur'an

I didn't find within the original texts a difference in the intended God

He is one, his attributes are one

And in all of them, the elements of

Like a chemical equation, generating a new element

It is like a system of practical stages for the human being

And I saw that all those whom wrote in science draws on from canons books, or meeting with it, or object on it, Without being able to disprove it

My talk is about origins that have not been manipulated during the ages, and translation

I didn't confine on it, to carry in my closet views of the people of atheism and philosophers and their passions and tendencies

With a deep study of the circumstances in which their ideas were made

The difference between people of faith and atheism is not only in the oldness or modernism

But in the continuation of life or perish as well

Between the start and the end is a struggle between the hope of the believers and the pain of the atheists

The terrain of moral talents consists through the expressions of the individual,

It is contrary to the people of faith and atheism

I don't mean people of faith, the traders of religions

As I don't mean the people of atheism those people of inattention and ignorance with the people of illusion and the view that of none evidence

I stood in a virtual reality between the pass of ages and ethics rationing, for the people of faith and behaviors of delusions for the people of atheism

I see these darkness with their own eyes and hear with their ears

I was the opponent and the judge like I had been, and I hadn't

And perceived the impact

And how these and those will be continue

A consciousness by which I realized the truth

When I walked to myself

In search for the human being

In whom manifested the love for every creature like me

Phase IX

Looking for treatment

I was like waves, hit itself once

Or scatter on the coast of its ideas

Then come back and dive into the idea

It comes to the meddle of my time

I go higher over a bigger wave

I saw from up there that island which gathering the remains of my counterparts

And before I join them

I floated with the wind to greet them

And compassionate with them, as if they were skinny shoot leaned because of the tenderness of the dew

I become an ascetic and pray for all my cells to make an impact

Collects the precious of them as a necklace

Its atoms are letters, watering minds like rain

And the meanings for the hearts, to save the souls from danger

And became among the people, as a walker, among them, but not with them

I would like them to be free from torments of souls from which I was suffering

Despair isn't my tools or my medicine, but the truth is Injustice will continue and darkness will spread

And the right`s blink remains lighting in the prospects

Its beam is breathing the vanity

For the elixir of immortality, to remain has meaning

Till that day, to erase all darkness, by its brightness, and we begin life

For altruism, I tell experiences

For brains and insights, to be irrigated

If I want my life to be rational, I must watch myself to save and enrich it

And I think about how to conceal my scandalous tears in my interior

And how can I be free, not to take the way of evil

It requires an arrangement of my ideas

And restore the system, and planning for the following

Then I transfer my experience

May be there is whom taking an advantage of life moments without suffering same torments which I suffered from

Phase X

Freeing the torments

How can I be free from illusion to understanding?

How do I make a dictionary for my mind, and write in it the meaning of the word "I", and the word "they"?

How do I choose a color for my work, to see it bright before others?

How do I remove the skin of myself, to wash it? Or my soul, to purify it?

How do I present it? Who buys?

How do my mind remain knight, holding my self in his hands, while I am seeing the hands of many minds are paralytic?

How do I correct what happened when mindlessness? or to forgive those who offend me, because they are in mindlessness?

I made "they" instead of "I, so I saw what they were seeing, when I became the observer and the observed, the buyer and the seller, the guilty and the judge, the oppressor and the oppressed

I take the perfume of love, bring hope, and make for others what I wished for myself,

I read my peers as if they were my eyes, browsing them like a book, to be the best of them

The freeing of my torments lies in a self-arrangement, and drawing the structure of my thoughts

And between a lover and a spiteful, I walk in the path and look for my security, wherever it is, and I live away from storms and strife

And grow as if it is immortality, and in every sleep I think it is the departure

And to be free, and not to be a bridge to bad, or a partner to him

I work as much as I can, what I am sure it is correct

The most beautiful success for oneself, is restoration of the cracked actions

And evaluate the modalities of behavior to their hopes

And maintenance of the opportunity, from the suffocation, not to be missed

And self-esteem when it is prevented from what brings it inferior

Through practical application for myself with myself, and with those around me, as family, relatives, friends, or community

And seeking for partners, because the journey of a lifetime is long, and requires consort, rejoice for my joy, and grieves for my sadness, and support me, and be my refuge, and a guide in planning

And with him I begin, or continue an individual, within the same boundaries

Catalyst

There are many means that get up with us when rationing it Especially those that correlate with each entity

At the forefront, one shouldn't lack of knowledge with which he strengthen the mind

Because science is light, and needs for light plug, that whom walking between darkness of ignorant self

Victory is achieved with happiness when distinguishing between the elements of good and evil, and taming the soul to good and to avoid evil

Good factors contribute to self-motivation, and help to intellectual developing and building

The first law must be observed with the soul, is not to be angry, and avoid it

Don't decided with anger, it is the key of evil

And it is followed by lying, it is the case of every evil

The cognitive structure is then based on the ability to understand and absorb, care with awareness, creates affection in hearts

The difference between the king and the owner is manifested of human qualities and faith, a king, whom behind all qualities will follow, and justice is its minister, and the owner, doesn't oppress it

With faith, awareness shines

And work on soul-searching, and fancy wrestling, continuance of cleanliness, by cleansing the inward thoughts, and decorating the apparent logic

With honesty, wisdom, seeking for science and renounce passion and humility and love, we can purify the hearts

It has the ability to conceal patience, and the courage to be able to hold anger

And scatter smile, despite his sadness construction of the city of wisdom in minds will be done when it reach the top of understanding by meanings

And realize that for every work its impact, either small, or big

And it has positive or negative energy in our life path, and even after

IFor altruism, I tell experiences

For brains and insights, to be irrigated

necklace

to save the souls from danger
